Ed Walker has sold the Clinton Democrat and will move to Texas to practice law.

Court Von Waldersee has started to China carrying with him a portable house, including a bathroom as a part of his fighting outfit.

A Berlin paper announces the engagement of Queen Wilhelmina of Holland to Prince Frederick Adolph of Mecklenburg-Schwerin.

Ten eloping couples from Kentucky were married in Jeffersonville Tuesday, in spite of the weather record of 98 in the shade.

John L. Powers, Berry Howard and Mason Hockersmith, three of the fugitives wanted in the assassination cases, are said to be in Harlan county.

Mr. Bryan spoke Tuesday to a large crowd at Wahoo, Neb. His speech was mainly devoted to an appeal to Republicans to support the Democratic ticket.

Paul Lawrence Dunbar, the negro poet, was drugged and robbed by a negro confidence man in New York city. He lost about $200 in money and jewelry.

The Republicans of the Eighth district have nominated Dr. John W. Williams of Rockcastle county, for Congress. The nominee was a major in the war with Spain and formerly held a chair in the Louisville Medical College. He is a man of wealth, but an unknown in politics.

The prohibitionists gave the public a genuine surprise by nominating for Governor the "Crested Jay-hawker of the mountains," ex-Congressman John D. White, a Republican leader of the Eleventh district. The nominee refused to renounce his Republicanism but said: "I cannot vote for McKinley or Yerkes. I cannot follow Mr. McKinley on the canteen question. The canteen is a greater curse to the country than the Goebel bill is to Kentucky. The Log Cabin is the bulwark of assassination."

In his speech in the Powers case, Col. T. C. Campbell charged that there were in Kentucky during Bradley's administration 896 murders and only 203 convictions and that during four years Gov. Bradley pardoned 216 homicides, and that Taylor during the fifty days he acted as Governor pardoned 35 murderers, not counting the assassins of Gov. Goebel whom he attempted to pardon after he was unseated as Governor. Bradley is now in New York and is much exercised over the attack on his record, claiming that the statement is false.

This opinion of Yerkes by Jno. D. White, a good Republican authority, will be read with interest: "Yerkes poses as a clean, sober gentleman. But it was he, I believe, who said of his own father, who was eloquent in prayer, that he could dive deeper, stay under longer and come up dryer than any other advocate in prayer in Danville, Ky. And it was he who prostituted his Federal office of Collector of Internal Revenue in 1898 and 1899 in sending his subordinates as political workers into Southeastern Kentucky, in violation of the Constitution of Kentucky and the civil-service laws of the United States."

A man who would ridicule the prayers of his own father lacks a good deal of being morally "clean."

They do things in a business way in the old world. Bresci, the assassin of King Humbert, has already been arraigned for trial and is trying to secure a postponement long enough to await the arrival of witnesses from the United States. Gov. Goebel was murdered seven months ago and only one of his assassins has yet been tried and all of the conspirators have not even been indicted.

The Fleming county Fiscal Court yesterday elected W. H. Graham County Judge, to succeed C. E. Booe, resigned. Just after Graham had been elected a telegram reached Flemingsburg saying that Gov. Beckham had appointed J. D. Wyatt to the Judgeship. There are now two claimants to the office. Graham is the Democratic nominee for the election of 1901, Wyatt is a newspaper man.

The Courier-Journal of yesterday published a list of 229 murderers pardoned by Gov. Bradley during his term of four years. Bradley denied the truth of Campbell's charge that he had pardoned 216 and the executive journal showed that Col. Campbell's statement was too conservative.

The Democratic campaign will open in every county seat on Labor Day, Monday Sept. 3. Gov. Beckham and Hon. Jas. B. McCreary will speak at Henderson. No speakers will be appointed to speak in their own towns. The assignments for Hopkinsville have not yet been announced.

Calvin Titus, the first American soldier to scale the walls of Peking, was a member of the Salvation Army at Wichita, Kan. He is not quite 21 years old and enlisted in April, 1899. He was slightly wounded in the neck.

Chief Justice Hazelrigg will, between now and September, issue a proclamation for an election to elect a Governor to fill the vacancy. The proclamation is issued under Section 1,525, Kentucky Statutes.

A ten-year-old boy was fatally injured by being tossed in a blanket by soldiers in camp near Toledo, Ohio. He died Tuesday and arrests are to be made.

The bookmakers of New York have lowered their odds on McKinley's election from 4 to 1 to 2 1/2 to 1. Pretty good record for the first 30 days.

The examining trial of Geo. F. Weaver, the strolling witness in the Powers case, charged with perjury, was begun at Georgetown Wednesday.

Gov. Shaw, of Iowa, has appointed Congressman J. P. Dolliver United States Senator, to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Senator John H. Gear.

The population of Philadelphia is 1,293,697, a gain of 246,733 since 1890.

Chicago shows up this time with a population of 1,698,575, an increase of 598,725 since 1890.

The Middle-of-the-Road Populist have called a meeting at Seabree, Ky., Sept. 3, for the purpose of nominating a candidate for Congress. It is said Ignatius Donnelly will be present. Mr. G. W. Southall, of this city, who was the last nominee of this branch of the Populist party, says he has been tendered the honor again but will not accept it. As the party in 1896 polled only 68 votes in the district out of a total of 41,000, the candidate nominated can hardly hope to attract attention even as an "also ran."

Former Adjutant General D. R. Collier, whose methods of squandering the State's money are now being investigated by the State Inspector, has been appointed Pension Agent for Kentucky, a position in which he will have a wider field of action.

South Trimble for the third time has won the nomination for Congress in the Seventh district. No other candidates conforming to the rule, the committee has declared him the nominee and called in the September primary.

There has been a sharp decline in coffee and the Arbuckles announce that it is due to "dullness and lower prices for green coffee."

City enumerators report the population of Owensboro as 14,198. The government report has not yet been made.

MUZZLE NEEDED.

Son of His Father Shoots Off His Mouth Defending Powers.

Washington, Aug. 20.—Lovell Yerkes, son of the Republican candidate for Governor of Kentucky, is in Washington. Mr. Yerkes says the fight in Kentucky will be made strictly on the issue of Goebelism and anti-Goebelism. Speaking of the verdict in the Powers case, Mr. Yerkes said:

"I think the verdict was a surprise to most people in Kentucky. At my home in Louisville I know prominent Goebel men looked either for an acquittal or a hung jury. No one seemed to think there was a probability of a verdict that would make a life sentence possible."

HORRIBLE CRIME.

Minnesota Farmer Kills Family And Burns Stables And Barns.

Arlington, Minn., Aug. 20.—Last night Theodore Wallert, a farmer, killed his wife and two step children, a girl aged 6 and a baby and seriously wounded his 19-year old stepson. Then he set fire to the barns, destroying the stable with nine horses, a corn crib full of hay and barn. His wife had recently been trying to secure a divorce and had taken means to prevent Wallert from coming to the farm.

A DEAL

On Between the Populists and Republicans in the First District.

Paducah, Aug. 20.—The Populists of the First Congressional District will open their campaign on September 15th at Mayfield. A deal is on between the Pops and the Republicans by which the Republicans are to support Ben Keys, the Populist nominee for Congress in return for which the Populists are to support Yerkes for Governor. The Democrats are not alarmed over the reports.

NO CLEW.

Loss of the $25,000 Package a Deep Mystery.

Chicago, Aug. 22.—With all the police machinery of the Adams Express company and the Pinkerton Detective agency in motion since Saturday forenoon, the identity of the man or men who substituted a bogus package for one containing nearly $25,000, consigned by the Commercial National State bank of Burlington, Ia., remains unknown to the authorities and the currency untraced.

News comes that Judge M. D. Brown who went to Vernon, Ind., some months ago, has made another change and traded his property there for a farm in Tennessee.
